TUESDAY 18th AUGUST 2020
CHICHESTER FESTIVAL THEATRE

‘SOUTH PACIFIC’

Matinee performance at 14.30 : Seats in the Stalls

This Rogers & Hammerstein musical is set in 1947 on an archipelago in the South Pacific Ocean where US troops are kicking their heels waiting for the war to reach them, tells the story of Nellie Forbush, a naval nurse from Arkensaw falling in love with French plantation owner, Emile de Beque, and their romance is conducted around the famous musical score which includes ‘Some Enchanted Evening’, I’m Going to Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair, and Bali Ha’l etc..

We shall arrive in time for you to get something to eat in Chichester at your own expense, or at the Theatre there is The Brasserie on the ground floor of the Minerva Theatre which is open for relaxed dining using a contemporary menu. Upstairs at the Minerva there is a grill which provides main meals and lighter food options. Booking is necessary for both these options. In the main theatre the café provides snacks such as sandwiches and soups etc., with coffee and drinks, and there is also outside seating.
